

Animal Hero Award Nomination Form

The Animal Hero Award will be presented every year to a person, group of people, or an animal based on the following criteria:

- the individual, or organization, has shown an outstanding act of compassion towards an animal or animals
- an animal has displayed an act of heroism towards people

The homes of the Animal Hero Award are Isle aux Morts and Tickle Cove. As much as is possible, these communities will be included in any ceremony involved in the presentation of these awards.

The award recipient(s) will be decided by a consensus of the representatives of the three organizations involved in the development of the award; the Animal Health Division (NL Forestry and Agrifoods Agency), the NL Veterinary Medical Association and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Newfoundland and Labrador). As such, individuals within these organizations are not eligible to be nominated or receive this award when acting in their associated capacities.

If you wish to nominate a person, people or animal, please complete the following form and submit by email to animalwelfare@gov.nl.ca or by mail to:
